The Insurer shall have full freedom for the process management or settlement of any claim and the Insured will provide any necessary information or assistance.

- i) Any assistance that the Insurer or its representatives offer to the Insured or third parties should not be construed as acceptance of the claim's admissibility.

10th Clause. Other Insurance

The Insured is bound to immediately give written notification to the Insurer about the existence of any other Insurance hired with another Insurer for the insured vehicle, covering the same risks and for the same interest, indicating the limit and the names of each one of the Insurers, according to article 100 of the Insurance Contract Law (Ley Sobre el Contrato de Seguro).

In accordance with article 102 of the Insurance Contract Law, another or other Insurance(s) covering the same insurable interest, entered into in good faith with the same or different dates and for a higher total amount of the value of the insured interest, will be valid and will bind each Insurer institution to the entire amount of suffered damage within the limits of liability that were insured.

If the Insured intentionally withholds the aforementioned, or if he/she buys multiple Insurances to get an unlawful benefit, the Insurer will be freed of its obligations.

11th Clause. Assessment and Damage Compensation

If the Insured has fulfilled the obligations of the 9th Clause Obligations of the Insured b) Notification of an Occurrence and the insured vehicle is free of any detainment, seizure, confiscation or any other similar situation carried out by the legally recognized Authorities who intervene in such acts in the exercise of their duties, the Insurer will be bound to begin the assessment of damage without default.

If the Insurer does not carry out the suffered damage assessment caused by the vehicle within the 72 hours following notification of the event, as long as it is in accordance with the previous item, the Insured has the right to proceed with the repairs and demand the amount from the Insurer described in this policy, unless that for imputable reasons to the Insured, the damage assessment cannot be made. Completed the valuation and recognized its responsibility, notwithstanding the information in article 71 of the Insurance Contract Law, upon finishing the evaluation and acknowledging its liability, the Insurer will indemnify the owner of the Insured Vehicle with the suffered damage assessment amount t accordingly to the date the loss happened.

Once the evaluation is begun by the Insurer, the suffered or caused damage will not be recognized if the Insured has proceeded in the repair of the vehicle without prior written consent of the Insurer, since this would not allow the Insurer to know about the existence or magnitude of the occurrence and the acts that concurred or influenced the event.

A. Partial Losses

Compensation of partial losses shall be comprised of the invoice value of parts and labor plus the taxes that they incur in. In all cases, upon making the assessment of losses, the price of parts or accessories on the date the loss happened shall be taken into consideration.

If the Insured chooses to carry out the vehicle's repair in his/her country of origin, labor costs may not be higher than the labor costs stipulated in the Certificate of Insurance and/or Policy Specification.

In the event that the vehicle suffers damages requiring sold-out parts for its repair, the Insurer's liability shall be limited to paying the Owner of the Insured Vehicle the amount for those parts according to the list price at dealerships, plus the installation cost agreed upon by the Insurer and the Insured or, if an agreement cannot be reached, it will be settled by an expert's opinion.

The corresponding deductible will be decreased from the affected sections over the above calculated amounts.

B. Total Losses

When the valuation made by the Company, proves that the Physical Damage to the Vehicle exceeds 60% of the sum insured that corresponds to the contracted policy at the time of the loss, the Company, previous to the authorization of the Insured, may consider the vehicle as a total loss; however payment may not in any case exceed 75% of the commercial value stipulated in clause 5th. INSURED AMOUNTS minus its respective deductible, since it is a foreign vehicle temporarily imported into national territory and in no case the Company will pay and/or acquire the property salvaged from the Vehicle.

If the assessment made by the Company for Physical Damage exceeds 75% of the sum insured, the Company will consider that the Vehicle is a Total Loss and only pay 100% of the Commercial Value minus your deductible once the Insured confirms donation and destruction of the vehicle by Mexican authorities through the corresponding records or when the Insured delivers to the Company, by endorsement, the Certificate of Title of the country of origin, exempt from any tax, otherwise the salvage value of the compensation will be deducted.

If for some reason or reasons attributable to the Insured, after 60 days from the date of loss the compensation cannot be paid out; the total loss will be compensated based on the Commercial Value of the Vehicle, as described in the preceding paragraphs, but instead of taking into account the value at the date of the loss, the value will be taken from the date on which all documents required for processing the compensation are delivered to the Company.

In the case of Total Theft the Company will pay the liability limit specified in clause 5. INSURED AMOUNTS, as long as the Insured delivers the Certificate of Title from the country of origin, exempt from any tax, minus the applicable deductible.

C. Guidelines for the Repairs of the Damages to the Insured Vehicle

The Insurance Company's responsibility is to locate potential suppliers that offer repairs and spare parts in the market, confirming their existence and availability to stock up as well as verify that the workshop or agency installs the spare-parts that have been requested and the repair is done adequately.

Spare parts will be replaced only when repairs cannot be guaranteed or have visible aesthetic damages.

The repair time involved depends on the existence of spare parts, as well as the proper and necessary workmanship and painting, the Insurance Company must inform the Insured through the workshop, agency or representative the time in which the insured vehicle will be delivered as well as the process and progress of the repair, providing a maximum delivery of 20 (twenty) business days from the date the Insured has delivered the vehicle to the Company or repair center. This period may be extended ten (10) business days more when there are unfavorable circumstances in the verifiable supply of parts and/or damaged components. In the event that, after the previous deadline, there were no spare parts available due to not having enough shortage, such period shall be extended and will be extended until the spare parts necessary for the repair are available, the Insurance Company shall inform the Insured any change in the delivery of the insured vehicle.

The availability of parts is subject to inventories by the Manufacturer, Importer and/or Distributor so it is not a matter of this contract the enforceability to the Insurance Company in cases of widespread shortages.

If there is no stock or there are general shortages of the required spare parts or the Insured does not accept the Insurance Company's estimated repairs, it may choose to indemnify the valued amount considering the provisions in the conditions applicable in the compensation.

The warranty repair is subject to that offered by the Manufacturer, Importer or Distributor of spare parts, as well as those provided by the workshop or agency regarding workmanship.

Notwithstanding the provisions above, in the event of damage undetected at the time of valuation and it is as a result of the loss claimed, the Insured shall notify the Insurance Company and submit the vehicle for evaluation and, if applicable, the corresponding repairs.

In no case shall the Insurer apply proportional compensable rule.

- b) The adjustment referred to in the first paragraph of fraction I of this Article, and
- c) The principal obligation.

When the Institution files a defense motion that suspends the proceeding of execution provided for in this Act, and a final ruling is issued by virtue of which the challenged acts remain intact, the corresponding payment or charge must include the compensation for default that the principal obligation has generated up until that moment, and

IX. If the Insurance Institution, within the legal terms and conditions, does not carry out the payment of compensation for default, the judge or National Commission for the Protection and Defense of Users of Financial Services, as applicable, shall impose a fine of 1000 to 15000 Salary Days.

In the case of the administrative procedure of execution provided for in Article 278 of this Act, if the Insurance institution, within the legal terms or conditions, does not carry out the payment of the compensation for default, the Commission shall impose upon it the fine indicated in this fraction, upon request of the corresponding executing authority pursuant to fraction II of this Article”.

Insurance products offered to the general public and formalized by means of adhesion contracts, which are understood to be those unilaterally drafted by an Insurance Institution, in which are established the terms and conditions applicable to contracting an insurance policy, as well as the model clauses that have been drafted for inclusion through additional endorsements to these contracts, in addition to complying with the requirements set forth in the first paragraph of this Article, shall be registered beforehand with the Commission, pursuant to the terms of Article 203 of these regulations. The provisions contained in this paragraph shall also apply to insurance products which, without being formalized through adhesion contracts, refer to group insurance or collective insurance of operations established in Sections I and II in Article 25 of this Law, and to the insurance bonds described in subsection g), Section III in Article 25 of these regulations.

Insurance Institutions shall state on the contractual documentation of the insurance products referred to in the above paragraph that the product offered to the public has been registered with the Commission, in the manner and under the terms determined by the latter through provisions of a general nature.

The contract or clause added thereto, which has been entered into by an Insurance Institution without undergoing the registration process referred to in this Article, is voidable, but a legal action may only be undertaken by the contracting party, the insured or beneficiary or his assignees against the Insurance Institution, and never by the latter against the former.

Article 214.- Execution of the operations and the service provided by these Institutions may be formalized through the use of equipment, electronic or optical means, or by any other technology, automated data processing systems and telecommunications networks, whether public or private, establishing in the respective contracts the bases for determining the following:

- I. The operations and services to be provided;
- II. The means for identifying the user, as well as the respective liabilities for its use, both for Institutions as well as for users;
- III. The means by which the parties shall record the creation, transmission, modification or extinguishment of rights inherent to the operations and services in question, including authentication methods, such as passwords or access codes; and
- IV. The mechanisms for confirmation of the completion of operations agreed upon by means of any electronic medium.

The use of the means for identification established pursuant to the provisions set forth in this Article, by substitution of the handwritten signature, shall produce the same effect which the law accords the respective documents and, consequently, shall have the same probative value.

The installation and use of equipment and media indicated in the first paragraph of this Article shall be subject to provisions of a general nature issued, as applicable, by the Commission.

Article 276.- If an Insurance Institution does not comply with the obligations contracted in the insurance contract within the time frames established for compliance, it shall pay the creditor indemnification for default, in accordance with the following:

- I. Obligations in national currency shall be denominated in Investment Units, at their value as of the date of expiration of the time periods referred to in the initial part of this Article, and their payment shall be made in national currency, at the value which the Investment Units had on the date on which same was carried out, in conformity with the provisions set forth in the second paragraph of Section VIII in this Article.

Further, the Insurance Institution shall pay default interest on the obligation denominated in Investment Units, in accordance with the provisions set forth in the preceding paragraph, to be capitalized monthly and at a rate equal to the product of 1.25, multiplied by the cost of attracting long-term funding denominated in Investment Units of multiple banking institutions in the country, as published by the Bank of Mexico in the Official Daily Gazette of the Federation, applied to each month during which the default persists;

- II. When the principal obligation is denominated in foreign currency, in addition to payment of that obligation, the Insurance Institution shall be obligated to pay default interest to be capitalized monthly and calculated by applying, to the obligation itself, the percentage that results from multiplying 1.25 by the cost of attracting long-term funding denominated in US dollars, from the multiple banking institutions in the country, as published by the Bank of Mexico in the Official Daily Gazette of the Federation, applied to each month during which the default persists;
- III. In the event that, on the date on which this calculation is made, the entities have not published the reference rates for calculating the default interest cited in Sections I and II in this Article, the rates of the immediately preceding month shall be applied; and for those cases in which said rates are not published, the default interest shall be calculated by multiplying 1.25 by the rate that replaces it, pursuant to applicable provisions;
- IV. The default rates referred to in this Article shall be generated on a daily basis, as of the expiration date of the deadlines referred to in the initial part of this Article until the date on which the payment provided for in the second paragraph of Section VIII in this Article has been made. For purposes of calculation, the reference rates referred to in this Article shall be divided by three hundred sixty-five and the result multiplied by the number of days contained in the months during which the non-compliance persists;
- V. In the case of repair or replacement of the damaged object, indemnification for default shall consist only of payment of the interest corresponding to the currency in which the principal obligation has been denominated, pursuant to Sections I and II in this Article and shall be calculated on the amount of the repair or replacement cost;
- VI. The rights of the creditor to the compensatory services provided herein are non-waivable. Any agreement intended to extinguish or reduce them shall not be valid for any legal purpose whatsoever. These rights shall arise as a result of the mere expiration of the time period provided by law for payment of the principal obligation, even though it is not liquid at that time.

Once the amount of the principal obligation has been set pursuant to the agreement between the parties, or in a final ruling issued in legal proceedings before a judge or arbitrator, the compensatory services provided under this Article shall be covered by the Insurance Institution on the amount of the principal obligation determined thereby;
- VII. If the claim arising from the respective legal action is determined to be in accordance with law, even when payment of indemnification for default, as established in this Article, has not been claimed, the judge or arbitrator, in addition to the principal obligation, shall also order the debtor to pay for these services, pursuant to the preceding fractions;
- VIII. The indemnification for default consisting of the system upgrade and interests referred to in Sections I, II, III and IV in this Article shall apply to all types of insurance, except in the case of insurance bonds intended to guarantee claims related to the non-payment of tax credits, in which case it will be governed by the provisions contained in the Tax Code of the Federation.

Payment made by the Insurance Institution shall be done in one single lump-sum, to include the total balance for the following items:

- a) Default interest;
- b) The adjustment referred to in the first paragraph of Section I in this Article, and
- c) The principal obligation.

In the event that the Insurance Institution does not pay the total amount of the obligations assumed in the insurance contract in one single lump-sum and indemnification for default, the payments made shall apply to the items indicated in the order established in the preceding paragraph, for which reason default indemnification shall continue to accrue, pursuant to the terms of this Article, on the amount of the unpaid principal obligation until such time as it has been repaid in full.

When the Institution files a defense motion seeking to suspend the proceedings for enforcement, as provided in this Law, and a final ruling is issued by virtue of which the challenged acts continue to subsist, the respective payment or charge shall include the indemnification for default that would have been generated by the primary obligation up until that time; and

- IX. If the Insurance Institution, within the legal terms and conditions, does not make payment as indemnification for default, the judge or National Commission for the Protection and Defense of the Users of Financial Services, as applicable, shall impose a fine of 1,000 to 15,000 days of minimum salary in effect.

In the case of administrative proceedings for enforcement, as provided in Article 278 of this Law, if the insurance institution, within the legal time frame or terms and conditions, does not make payment for the indemnification for default, the Commission shall impose upon it the fine indicated in this Section, at the request of the respective enforcing authority, pursuant to Section II in said Article.

Article 277.- On the subject of jurisdiction, for compliance of the ruling handed down in the proceedings, the Judge of record shall require the Insurance Institution, if so ordered by the Court, to show, within the subsequent seventy-two hours, that it has paid the indemnification which it had been ordered to pay, and in the case of failure to show such evidence, the Judge shall order the securities market intermediary or the depository institution holding the securities of the Insurance Institution, without liability for the depository institution and without requiring the consent of the Insurance Institution, to conduct an auction of the Insurance Institution's securities or, in the case of the institutions for deposit of securities referred to in the Law on the Securities Market, to transfer the securities to a securities market intermediary so that such an action will be carried out.

For contracts entered into with Insurance Institutions for the administration, brokerage, deposit or custody of titles or securities forming part of their assets, the obligation shall be established on the part of the securities market intermediary or of the depository institution to comply with the provisions set forth the preceding paragraph.

For contracts entered into with Insurance Institutions with securities depository institutions, the securities market intermediaries shall be advised that the depository institution will transfer the securities for the purpose of complying with the provisions set forth in the preceding paragraph and that the Insurance Institution shall have entered into an agreement establishing the obligation to auction the securities, in order to comply with the provisions set forth in this Article.

The securities market intermediaries and securities depository institutions with which the Insurance Institutions have entered into agreements for the administration, brokerage, deposit or custody of titles or securities forming part of their assets shall be subject, insofar as concerns what is indicated in this Article, to the provisions of this Law and all other applicable provisions.

The jurisdiction by territory for filing a lawsuit with respect to insurance shall be determined, upon the choice of the plaintiff, by virtue of the address of any of the local offices of the National Commission for the Protection and Defense of the Users of Financial Services. In a similar manner, the Judge of the legal domicile of said office shall have competence over this matter; any agreements which stipulate to the contrary of the provisions set forth in this paragraph shall be null and void.

Law for the Protection and Defense of the Users of Financial Services

Article 50 Bis.- Each Financial Institution shall have a Specialized Unit whose purpose will be to handle inquiries and claims brought by Users. Said Unit shall be subject to the following provisions:

- I. The Head of the Unit shall have the power to represent and obligate the Financial Institution to comply with agreements arising from the handling of claims;
- II. It shall have regional managers in each federated entity where the Financial Institution has branches or offices providing customer service;
- III. Expenses arising from its performance, operation and organization shall be borne by the Financial Institutions;
- IV. It shall receive inquiries, claims, or requests for clarification brought by Users using any means which help to facilitate their receipt, including receipt at branches or offices for providing customer service to the public, and shall respond in writing within a term not to exceed thirty business days, to commence as of the date of receipt thereof; and
- V. The head of the Specialized Unit shall submit a quarterly report within ten days of the close of each quarter to the National Commission, identifying all inquiries, claims and requests for clarification received and handled by the Financial Institution under the terms established by the National Commission through the provisions of a general nature issued for such purposes.

The filing of claims with the Specialized Unit shall toll the statute of limitations regarding the legal actions to which they may give rise.

The Financial Institutions shall inform, by means of notices displayed in prominent places in all of their branches, the place, hours of operation and the responsible party or parties of the Specialized Unit. Users may, at their choice, submit their inquiry or claim to the Specialized Unit of the Financial Institution in question or the National Commission. The Specialized Units shall be overseen by the National Commission.

Article 65.- Claims shall be filed within the term of two years as of the date on which the event giving rise thereto occurred, or otherwise, as of the date of denial by the Financial Institution to satisfy the request of the User or, in the case of claims for unrequested services, as of such time as it became aware of the event in question.

A claim may be filed in writing or brought by any other means at the discretion of the User, addressed to the legal domicile of the National Commission or any of the local offices or Specialized Units referred in Article 50 Bis of this Law, of the respective Financial Institution.

Article 68.- The National Commission shall exhaust all possibility of remedy through settlement proceedings, according to the following rules:

- I. Settlement proceedings shall only be conducted in regard to claims whose total amounts are less than three million investment units, except in the case of claims against insurance institutions, in which case the amount shall be less than six million investment units.

I Bis. The National Commission shall serve notice summoning the parties to a settlement hearing to be held within twenty business days, said period to commence as of the date on which the claim is received.

The settlement hearing may be held by telephone or by any other suitable means, in which case the National Commission or the parties may request that any commitments assumed therein be confirmed in writing.

- II. The Financial Institution, through its representative, shall provide a report in writing to be submitted before or at the time of the settlement hearing described in the preceding section;
- III. In the report described in the foregoing section, the financial institution shall reply in a reasoned manner to each and every one of the facts referred to in the claim, or otherwise such report shall be considered not to have been submitted for all legal purposes as may arise;

The financial institution shall attach to the report all documents, information, and any other evidence which it deems pertinent in support thereof; nevertheless, the National Commission may, at any time, require the financial institution to deliver information, documents or electromagnetic media which it requires by virtue of the claim and the report;

- IV. The National Commission may, for well-founded reasons, adjourn the settlement hearing only once. In that case, the National Commission shall indicate the date and time to continue same, which shall be held within the next ten business days.

Failure to submit the report shall not constitute grounds for adjournment of the hearing.

- V. Failure to submit the report shall cause the National Commission to assess the admissibility of the User's claim based on the evidence which it has available or which it can obtain, as provided in Section VI and for purposes of the issuance of the ruling, if any, as provided in Article 68 Bis.
- VI. The National Commission may, when it so deems or upon the request of the User, at the respective settlement hearing or within the ten business days before such meeting is held, request additional information from the Financial Institution, and as applicable, adjourn the hearing, requiring the Financial Institution to submit the additional report on the new date;

It may also decide to conduct any proceedings which would allow it to provide evidence of the facts constituting the grounds of the claim.

- VII. In the respective hearing, the parties shall be advised to reach a settlement regarding their interests, for which purpose the mediator will formulate settlement proposals and try to conduct the hearing in an orderly and coherent fashion. Should the parties fail to reach a settlement, the mediator shall consult the Register of Public Offers of the Arbitration System on Financial Matters, as provided in this Law, for the purpose of informing the parties that their dispute may be settled through arbitration with the National Commission, for which reason it will invite them to appoint, by mutual agreement, the National Commission as an arbiter to decide their dispute, and it shall remain, at the option of the parties, to decide whether such arbitration will be conducted by amiable composition or through arbitration in law.

For the case in which the corresponding arbitration agreement is entered into, the respective hearing may, at the User's request, be continued for the sole purpose of allowing the User to seek advice from a legal representative. The respective arbitration agreement shall be stated on the record signed by the parties with the National Commission for such purpose.

Should the parties fail to submit to arbitration, they shall reserve their rights so that they may be asserted before the courts with competence over these matters or through the appropriate legal channel of proceedings.

In the event that the Financial Institution does not appear at the settlement hearing, a monetary fine shall be imposed upon it and it shall be summoned to a second hearing, to take place within a term not to exceed ten business days; should it fail to appear at this second hearing, a new monetary fine shall be imposed upon it.

The National Commission shall hand the plaintiff, upon payment of its cost, a certified copy of the ruling referred to in Article 68 Bis, so that the latter may enforce it with the courts having jurisdiction over this matter;

The Financial Institution shall be made aware of this request, so that it may state whatever it deems to be in its interests, producing any evidence and proof considered appropriate within a term not to exceed ten business days. Should the Financial Institution fail to make any statement within the aforesaid term, the Commission shall issue its decision with the evidence in its possession.

- VIII. Should the parties reach a settlement in order to resolve the claim, such settlement shall be indicated on the record setting forth the particulars of the agreement for this purpose. The National Commission shall at all times explain to the User the extent and the consequences of such settlements; if, after hearing this explanation, the User decides to accept the settlement, the agreement will be signed by both parties and the National Commission, setting a term in which to provide evidence of compliance therewith. The agreement signed by the parties shall be considered res judicata and an enforceable matter;
- IX. The burden of proof with respect to the performance of the agreement falls upon the Financial Institution and, in the event of failure to do so, it shall be penalized as set forth in this Law; and
- X. Once the settlement hearings have concluded, should the parties fail to reach a settlement, the National Commission will issue the respective record. In the event that the Financial Institution declines to sign the record, this fact will not affect its validity and said denial shall be entered into the record.

In addition, the National Commission shall order the respective Financial Institution to record the totally reserved contingent liability resulting from this claim and shall notify the National Commissions responsible for its oversight of this fact.

In the case of mutual insurance institutions and companies, the order mentioned in the second paragraph of this section shall refer to the creation and investment, pursuant to Law on the subject of insurance, of a specific technical reserve to cover the obligations for which compliance is pending, said amount not to exceed the insured sum. Such reserve shall be recorded in a specific line item on the accounting books.

In the cases provided for in the preceding two paragraphs, the accounting entry may be cancelled by the Financial Institution under its strict liability, provided that one hundred eighty calendar days have elapsed after such entry was made without the claimant having enforced his right before a court of competent jurisdiction or if arbitration proceedings have not commenced, according to this Law.

The recording of the contingent liability or the creation of the technical reserve, where applicable, shall be mandatory in those cases in which the National Commission will issue the ruling referred to in Article 68 Bis of the present Law. If, from the records in the respective file, it is evident, upon the judgment of the National Commission, that User's claim is inadmissible, the Commission may refrain from ordering that the contingent liability or the creation of the technical reserve fund be recorded, where applicable.

- XI. No petitions for appeal against the procedural rulings issued by the National Commission will be admissible.
